

A10: Northfield Township

Aquifers yielding sufficient quantities of water are found in most areas of Northfield Township. However, the northeast quarter of the township and an area of the southeast corner are designated as "well first" due to low yield well locations being encountered.

Drinking Water: Well Information

From 1968 through 1992 there have been 935 drinking water wells drilled in Northfield Township. This number of wells is high for a rural community. However, the Whitmore Lake area is not served by a municipal water system. Between the years 2000 to 2005, there were 194 new wells drilled and 103 wells were replaced. The average well depth in the township is 78 feet.
