Art with Heart

Benefiting the Peer Mentoring Program—training people with kidney disease to help others overcome the challenges of CKD through empathy and experience.

The Art Show and Sale will feature live music, wine tasting, chocolate and cheese. In addition to the Art Show and Sale, there will be a small silent auction with featured pieces from the artists. You will have the opportunity to meet the artists while viewing their fabulous artwork.

There is an opportunity to preview the work the day before, February 13th, at the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

Featured Artists

Gertrude Lederer

Original Watercolor Paintings. She is a 90 year old artist whose Jewish family was forced to leave their home in Vienna during World War II. Her work has been exhibited at Lincoln Center in New York City and in the See Celo Gallery in Burnsville, North Carolina.

Harry Joy

Hand Carved Wood Sculptures. Harry is inspired by his wife Sally, who has had a successful kidney transplant for 21 years. Harry creates exquisite furniture, bowls, and vases carved out of the natural growth patterning within wood. Harry shows his work at the Dexter Gallery.

Dee Segula

Handmade Jewelry and Original paintings. Dee is a current dialysis patient who shows her work locally at the Washington Street Gallery and has participated in the Ann Arbor Art Fair as well as many juried shows.

Bob Meyer

Black and White Photography. Bob is a kidney transplant recipient of 6 years, and is a marvelous photographer who expresses his creativity through this art form.
