WASHTENAW COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH WELCOMES NEW MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Dr. Monique Reeves Accepts Position

YPSILANTI, MI – Washtenaw County Public Health is pleased to announce that Monique Reeves, MD, MPH, is the County’s new Medical Director. Dr. Reeves brings over ten years of experience in emergency medicine to the department. She received both her medical doctorate and her master of public health degrees from the University of Michigan.

“We are very happy to welcome Dr. Reeves to the Public Health Department,” says Dick Fleece, Health Officer. “She brings excellent clinical skills and experience. She understands our strengths as a community and where there are health disparities that need attention. I look forward to working with her closely,” he continued.

As Medical Director, Dr. Reeves provides medical oversight to the health department as well as leadership, training and education to prevent disease and promote public health for the entire Washtenaw County community. She is responsible for coordinating, planning and setting policy with area health systems, community providers, residents and other stakeholders; she also provides medical guidance to prevent injuries, control disease outbreaks or address other public health emergencies.

Dr. Reeves assumes the Medical Director position vacated by Dr. Diana Torres-Burgos, MD, MPH, who recently relocated to New York City with her family.

Washtenaw County Public Health promotes health and works to prevent disease or injury in our community. Visit us online at <http://publichealth.ewashtenaw.org>.
