

So you think you're a baller?
Got handles or maybe a nice jumper? Think you've got what it takes to be named the "King of the South"?

The Roundball Classic is a free, eight week, 3 on 3 basketball tournament that was created for the young people of the Southside community. Every summer the tennis courts become the battleground as we search for "The King of the South".

The Roundball Classic was designed so that the individual, the team, the one time participant, or the full eight week participant could take part and still benefit equally. All you need to do is show up on Thursday with a team of three and play until you lose twice. Each week is a tournament by itself, but in order to be the "King of the South" you have got to be willing to compete throughout the entire summer.
