

Upcoming Events

Free Seminars

Housing Counseling and Financial Literacy

Free Counseling for Persons/Families in Housing and Financial Crisis

Eastern Michigan University Counseling Center, 135 Porter Building, Ypsilanti, MI 48197

Financial stresses and strains take a psychological toll on the individuals and families. There are many thoughts and feelings that people experience as they face the prospect of foreclosure. Most common among them are embarrassment, isolation, loss of control, stress, feelings of failure, anger and frustration, depression and anxiety, and in extreme cases, thoughts of suicide.

The COE Counseling Clinic in the Clinical Suite in Porter 135 is offering free counseling to help those who are struggling with financial problems. We can also provide you with referrals that will help you work through the foreclosure process and begin rebuilding credit. For more information call 734.487.4410

Budgeting 101

Tuesday, February 22, 2011—6:30—8:00pm

Washtenaw County—LRC Building, 4135 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, MI 48108

Please pre-register for this free basic budgeting class by February 18, 2011 by calling 734-222-3943.

Your Home, Your Future

Thursday, March 10th, 2011 —6:30—8:30pm

Pittsfield Charter Township Hall, 6201 W. Michigan Ave, Ann Arbor, MI 48108

Protect your most valuable asset—your home—in these troubled times. If you are falling behind on your mortgage or property tax payments, about to lose your home, or want to learn more about working with your mortgage company, this program may help. RSVP: 734-997-1678

Living on Less

Tuesday, March 22, 2011—6:00—9:00pm

Washtenaw County—LRC Building, 4135 Washtenaw Ave.

This free one-time, 3 hour class will explain how to develop a spending plan, reduce flexible expenses and reduce debt. This class also focuses on the feelings of loss associated with having a reduced income and how to take control of your money again. Please pre-register by February 18, 2011 by calling 734-222-3943.

Underwater With Your Mortgage?

Please RSVP for the following events in Washtenaw County by calling 734-997-1678.

A panel of community experts will discuss the housing crisis and offer strategies and solutions to avoid foreclosure. Q & A encouraged. Please attend one of these free housing seminars.

Wednesday, April 6th, 2011

Time: 6:30—8:30pm

Where: Washtenaw County Public Health & Human Services Building — Room 1120
555 Towner St, Ypsilanti, MI 48197

Thursday, May 12th, 2011

Time: 6:30—8:30pm

Where: Washtenaw County Learning Resource Center
4135 Washtenaw Ave, Ann Arbor, MI 48108

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY
EXTENSION

EMU's College of Education
Clinical Suite
& Department of Leadership & Counseling

Catherine McClary, CPFO
Washtenaw County Treasurer